

GMVCC is going on a Gray Whale Tour

Tuesday, April 19th
Departing GMVCC at 9am

During the months of March and April the Puget Sound plays host to a group of gray whales that come in to feed on their migration to Alaska. While on this migratory pattern, there are a few individuals that stop by the plentiful waters of the Puget Sound to feast on the bounty of the Salish Sea. The murky and muddy waters off the south end of Whidbey Island and around Everett and Camano Island are an ideal gray whale buffet during this time.
